Movie Theater in Proposed New Complex

Carmel-by-the-Sea will again have its Carmel motion picture theater, built by Carmel men, the building will be in the Carmel tradition; leased by Carmel men, its conduct and its presentations will be attuned to Carmel's citizens. In addition to its presentations of first-run motion pictures, the theater will be available to all for community events. The preliminary steps toward construction are in the final stage. The Carmel Theater will occupy the focal point of Sunset Terrace.

Sunset Terrace, Carmel's newest commercial development is definitely a 'home town' product," states real estate man Jack J. Miller and Francis Sparolini, the co-owners and builders.

The Miller-Sparolini complex will replace one of old Carmel's landmarks, known through the past as Hill's Corner. Covering approximately 16,500 square feet, Sunset Terrace will face on San Carlos, Eighth and Mission streets and will include the theater and 14 shops, varying in size. (Mission Street building is already under construction.

The theater, planned to present first-run motion pictures, has been leased for 50 years, by two highly experienced young men, Carmel residents for the past eight years.

Tom Graff, who won popularity as manager of Carmel Theater, destroyed in favor of the Carmel Plaza shopping center, was later manager of the Golden Bough Cinema, up to the date it was taken

New Building Seen At Carmel High

Carmel's Unified School District Board of Education voted unanimously to retain the firm of Elston and Cranston Architects, to design an addition to Carmel High School. The proposed building will be composed of four separate rooms: A large group room with fixed seating for approximately 200, in U-shaped tiers. The flat-floor space in the center of the area may then be used for additional seating for up to 50 students ,or possibly for a portable science laboratory for group demonstrations, Since most science classes are now taught with such demonstrations, it is entirely feasible for one teacher to give them before many students at one time. This method, in turn, will allow all teachers more time to spend with smaller groups and individual instructions. Storage areas for demonstration equipment, and teacher work preparation space are also to be included in the complex. The other portion, containing a flat-floor, divisible, group room seating 60-80 students, will complete the complex. There subgroups may work together as parts of a larger group.

Superintendent Medill Bair stated that while this additional facility with its 6,800 to 7,000 square feet of space, is actually smaller than the increased enrollment at the high school demands, it will be readily adaptable to junior high use at such time as the high school becomes a junior high. The building, hopefully to be opened in September 1964, is to be financed with money remaining from the last bond issue, which may only be used for permanent improvements, such as buildings.

Other actions by the board included the adoption of the calendar for the 1964-65 school year. School will open on Sept. 10, 1964 and close June 17, 1965. The Christmas recess will be from Dec. 21, 1964 to January 4, 1965.

Chairman Dr. Robert Newton thanked retired Supt. of Schools Stewart Mitchell for giving his time and help to the problem of drainage easement at the junior high school. He has been assisting Asst. Supt. Wayne Greenfield on this problem which is still under study.

Carmel Police Help to Break Up a Giant "Blast"

Carmel's police department participated last weekend in breaking up a giant party which might have turned into a tragedy for the entire state.

The events, as related to the PINE CONE by Chief Clyde Klaumann, happened in this matter.

Last year a "blast" was held in Lake Tahoe which included a great deal of drinking by minors, lawless conduct and immoral behavior. At this time about 600 of the participants signed their names in a guest book together with their addresses.

A few weeks ago all those people received a letter, signed by Jon beachcomber, telling them that the same sort of party was to be held in Carmel on Saturday, Feb. 1.

An unidentified informant notified state authorities and turned over the letter. It reads in part, "At about 12 or so, we can go to a bar in Monterey, the band can be set up there, and we can continue the party. People under 21 as well as those over will be able to go to this bar . . . At the above bar, the excess, or left over donations will be given to the bartender — he'll give out as many pitchers of beer (light or dark) as the money will buy . . ."

The SUR COAST

By Elizabeth Fuller Jones

A gay theater-supper party, prompted by no special occasion other than the desire to share a pleasant evening, was the recent happy lot of a group of Big Sur residents, Dr. and Mrs. Antoine Da Vigo of Carmel Valley planned the party and invited as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Post, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fleenor, Mr. Ted Bergquist and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Johnson, to attend a performance at California's First Theater in Monterey.

For the host and hostess, and their friends from Big Sur, the highlight of the evening's play, "Deserted At The Altar," a melodrama of the 1880's, was the song "Old Monterey," sung by master of ceremonies Paul Ransom. When Ransom discovered that Dr. Da Vigo was in the audience, he was asked to come on stage and to his delight, to sing with the 'star' and his guests, and the entire audience as the song, "Old Monterey" was composed by the doctor. Dr. Da Vigo, a chiropractor with offices in Monterey, studied music in former years and wrote and published music and verse in early years of Hollywood productions. Of particular interest to his friends in Big Sur is the song "Big Sur" which he wrote for their annual Pot Luck Revue a few years ago.

After the theater, Dr. and Mrs. Da Vigo entertained their guests and the entire cast of "Deserted at the Altar" at a supper party at Caruso's Corner Pizza in Monterey.

P.G.&E. Has Gift for Kite Flyers

Top Cat and his TV pals are offering some good hints on kite glying—and building—to boys and girls.

They want youngsters to make this a safe kite season. Their suggestions are presented in an educational and entertaining manner in a full-color Kite Fun Book available free at all offices of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

School or youth groups may obtain the booklets in quantity.

Top Cat and his cartoon friends are the latest of a number of comic characters to bring such hints to kite flyers. Their booklet for the 1964 season tells how to build various types of kites and also contains puzzle features.

The comic book story gives these safety rules:

1. Don't cross streets or highways while flying kites.
2. Don't fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail.
3. Don't use tinsel string, wire or any twine with metal in it.
4. Don't fly a kite near TV or radio aerials.
5. Don't fly a kite near electric power lines.
6. Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged kite.
7. Don't touch fallen electric wires.
8. Don't fly a kite in the rain.

Science Teachers Meet At Carmel Jr. High

Thirty-five science teacher members of the Northern California Committee on Problem Solving in Science met at the Carmel Junior High School 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 1. Hosts of the meeting were Mrs. Albert C. Kolb, Herb Reuter, and Marvin Patterson of the Carmel Junior High and Mr. Bruce Henderson of the Pacific Grove High School.

The members came from an area bounded by Santa Rosa on the north and San Luis Obispo on the south.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Albert C. Kolb and Dr. Walter Klas was introduced to the group. Dr. Klas speaking for Mr. Medill Bair, District Superintendent welcomed the group to the Carmel Unified District. Dr. Klas then explained the methods used in the Junior High for scheduling the students into classes. He showed how the combined periods gain extra time for field trips and experimental activity in the science classrooms of the Carmel Junior High.

Mr. Marvin Patterson was introduced and he showed the group methods used by the Carmel teachers in teaching chemistry to their 8th grade students.

Everyone boarded a Carmel Unified School District bus and made a trip to the river mouth where they, under the guidance of Mr. Kolb, observed plants, animals, birds, geologic formations, and many other items used in the science programs of the Carmel Junior High School.

On return to the school the meeting was presided over by NCCOPSIS president Mr. Norman McRae of Pleasant Hill. A lively discussion was held in the problems of improving science programs of our schools. The meeting was adjourned at 1:30 p.m.

Don't let washday pin you down. Get a dryer.

Are you tired of hauling heavy baskets of wet wash to the line?

Are you tired of running out of clothesline before you run out of clothes?

Are you tired of waiting for the sun to come out? Or the rain to give in? Of lines that break? Of wash that's all tangled? Of drying clothes in the garage? Of sprinkling before you iron? When washday is over, are you just plain tired? You are?

Then there's no need to tell you about the advantages of a dryer, is there?

Linus Pauling Pleads for a World of Peace

"If we could explode all the bombs used in the Second World War on a single day, including the Nagasaki and Hiroshima bombs, and then did the same thing again the next day, and the next after that, at this rate it would ake 146 years to explode the present amount of stockpiled nuclear warheads."

Three times the capacity audience at the Monterey Peninsula College Armory rose to their feet to applaud a neighbor from north Monterey County, some with a little reluctance but most with respect, if not downright admiration. The man with a halo of bushy white hair encircling a prominent bald pate bore a cherubic expression, hiding for a moment the intense and awful deliberations of a mind that had grappled with the central dilemma of our times—nuclear fission.

Linus Pauling, twice Nobel Prize Laureate, enfant terrible of the Peace Movement, came armed to the teeth with statistics, devastating computations and the kind of logic only a scientist can muster with such moral forthrightness.

No more war was his special argument, reciting the horrors of a nuclear conflagration and pointing out that here lies certain madness for the human race.

During the question and answer period Dr. Pauling said that for his Nobel Peace Prize lecture he had set forth a system for controlling nuclear weapons where the responsibility would be equally divided between the nuclear nations and a special United Nations inspection team. He pointed out he did not advocate handing over these weapons to the U.N. but having them under supervision, and that the individual countries concerned would retain control.

Renowned Chaplain to Speak Sunday Evening

The Catholic Chapel Guild of the United States Naval Postgraduate School and Naval Air Facility, Monterey, will present as guest speaker the Right Reverend Monsignor Maurice S. Sheehy, Ph.D., Prothonotary Apostolic, Vice Admiral USNR (Retired), this Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the Bali Room of the Administration Building at the Navy School in Monterey. Monsignor Maurice S. Sheehy, subject will be "Common Sense in Education."

Head of the Department of Religious Education at Catholic University of America for some 30 years, Monsignor Sheehy is the author of a number of books in religious education and associated fields. Among his best-known works are "Six O'Clock Saintz" and "College Men." He has probably taught more schoolteachers, priests, nuns, laymen and laywomen, than many people ever meet in a lifetime. Once a member of the Board of Visitors of the U.S. Naval Academy, Monsignor Sheehy distinguished himself in many combat theaters as a Chaplain in World War II, and has the unique distinction of being the only chaplain of any religion ever to achieve the rank of Vice-Admiral in the U.S. Naval Reserve Forces.

Chaplain of D.L.I. Will Speak At Luncheon

Capt. Charles L. Trinkle, chaplain of the Defense Language Institute, who recently completed three and a half years service in Germany, will be the guest speaker and soloist at the luncheon meeting of the Monterey County Christian Women's Club next Tuesday. The luncheon will be held at the Mark Thomas Inn at 12:15 o'clock.

An added feature will be Miss Loleen Funk, owner of the Cosmetic Bar in Monterey, who will give tips on perfumes and make-up.

All women are invited to attend and may make reservations by calling Mrs. James Grooms, 372-3198.

Goals for Coming Years Stated

Rather than a tax increase, I favor a bond issue. Carmel has no outstanding bonds to be paid off. A private group proposes to obtain money to construct a cultural center including a 1500 seat auditorium at no cost to Carmel and after say, 20 years, to have the structures revert to the City. Estimated cost $1,900,000. Should the City Hall and some of the city offices be housed there or not? What do you think? Better study this one. It has many angles. The interest on $550,000 at 4% is $22,000 a year. Principal payment for 20 years will amount to $27,500 annually. It is possible that this $49,500 could easily be paid off with the city's "bed tax," with some changes in the city ordinances.

HIGHER CARMEL TAXES. The report from the Controller to the City Council dated 24 July 1963 indicated clearly that a tax increase to produce about $30,000 for Capital Outlay (purchase of capital assets, such as trucks, autos, street machines, etc.) is inevitable next year. This means a tax increase of 16 cents per $100 assessed value, thus raising Carmel's tax rate from $0.94½ to $1.10. This was reported in some detail in the Carmel Valley Outlook at the time. We have not much choice on this one, but before we start complaining, let us resemble that even after the raise, Carmel's total tax rate will still be the lowest in Monterey County.

ANNEXATION. If Carmel does not annex much of the adjacent territory in the near future, meaning 1964 or 1965 at the latest, then the County government will control the development right at our doorstep, and it may very well be that what takes place there will not be at all to our liking,—nor for that matter to the liking of our friends living in those areas of Carmel unincorporated. The first effect of any such annexation may be a slight reduction in Carmel's tax rate, with a significant increase in the other tax rate. Nevertheless the cost of material and labor will continue to increase in my opinion, which will cause the cost of government to rise correspondingly. Over the long run, therefore, we face increasing taxes, UNLESS additional sources of revenue are found, or some Governmental services are abolished or curtailed. I strongly favor the annexation of all the area South of Pescadero Canyon, North of Carmel River, and East of the ocean to the Eastern boundary of Rancho Rio Vista.

SIZE AND BULK OF BUILDINGS. Our efforts to have tighter control over the size and bulk of buildings have been only partly successful. We still feel Carmel is no place for large structures of any kind. One ordinance permits design control including disapproval if out of scale with Carmel, but we have not enough teeth in our laws to prevent unduly large buildings being erected, as witness Hilltop House on Torres near 6th. If our members really want such control, now is the time for them to make their wishes known to the Council and the Planning Commission. Failure of members to attend Council and Planning meetings and speak up loudly and emphatically is one of the reasons we are not progressing more rapidly. Do read the papers, note what is coming up, then go to the meeting and speak your piece.

CITY ELECTION. Tuesday, April 14, 1964. To be elected, three (3) City Councilmen for four years each, a City Clerk and a City Treasurer. Although the CARMEL CITIZENS COMMITTEE is a non political corporation, it is the bounden duty of every citizen to take part in elections. Be sure you are registered, study the candidates and VOTE.

PADRE PATTER

by Mary Hurn

Last week, students at Carmel High School were busy taking their semester final exams. A special schedule was in effect during exam week. Each day, two exams were given. These were two-hour tests. The first exam was from 8:00 to 10:00. After a fifteen minute break, students took a second exam from 10:15 to 12:15.

Then we were dismissed for the remainder of the day. Everyone is glad finals and the semester are over. Now we havea clean slate for the second semester.

This week, seniors will place orders for graduation announcements. There are varied views on graduation formalities. Many students believe too much "fuss" is made about high school graduation. They feel the emphasis on high school graduation detracts from college graduation. Others are in favor of placing a lot of importance on high school graduation. They argue that many students do not even go on to college and high school graduation is an important phase of life.

Almost all seniors are looking forward to graduating from high school. The realization is just coming to many of us that we have only one more semester of high school left. As Kris Johnson said, "I can hardly wait; I'll be so happy. There's so much to learn . . . I'm looking forward to college."

Carmel Citizens Committee Hears Goals for Coming Years

The Carmel Citizens Committee, at its annual meeting last Thursday night, voted to ask the city government and the telephone company to remove the telephone from the garden of Harrison Memorial Library.

Other matters which came up for general discussion at the meeting included the purchase of Sunset School by the city and possible annexations and the ramifications they may have.

The high point of the meeting was an address given by Admiral C. W. Fisher, president of the group. Because the PINE CONE thinks that address is of great significance to all who are interested in Carmel, we herewith print it in these pages:

I feel the next few years beginning right now, are crucial years for Carmel. The pressures to change Carmel due basically to the rapidly increasing population, have become more and more apparent, in stores, motels, business blocks, conventions, visitors and automobiles—and most powerfully in the existing new shopping center at the mouth of the Valley and that contemplated just over Carmel Hill. So far, in my opinion, the Government and residents of Carmel have not positively decided what they want to do about these things, nor have they enacted ordinances to make these decisions effective.

Do the citizens of Carmel REALLY wish Carmel to retain its celebrated scenic beauty, its artistic and cultural eminence? Do they want it to remain a quiet residential community? Do they want to preserve the peculiarities and the charm that have made this area unique? If so, now is the time to do something about it. In fact it is almost too late. And it cannot be too forcefully pointed out that none of these things is free. To have them we will have to work for them and pay for them, —pay and pay and pay, in effort and labor, yes and in hard cash as well. The hope that "George Will Do It" is no longer of any use. If we, the citizens and residents of Carmel, do not rise up and do it, it will not be done. and Carmel will become just another tourist town without distinction or flavor of its own, like so many sad spectacles we see around the country.

Here are some of the things we have to face up to and decide in the near future:

The AREA PLAN. We bought it and paid for. Your citizens and representatives worked on it for two years. Will you now adopt it or throw it away? If adopted and made efective it will go far toward preserving the character of the Monterey Peninsula including Carmel. Do you want that? If so, are you willing to pay the fifteen cent tax for a Conservation and Park District that is the first step to that end by preventing the bulldozers destroying certain beautiful areas of greenbelt. Do you know anything about the plan? If not I earnestly advise you to find out, because it is a powerful instrument to control your type of living and your neighbors in the years to come.

YOUNG BLOOD. The members should realize the necessity of getting more young persons into our Association, especially as officers and Directors. We definitely need to be guided by the younger generation in order to be able to work for the kind of a community they want to live in—because we will no longer be here.

SUNSET SCHOOL. Carmel has offered $550,000 for the property subject to a report by Stone and Webster as to its suitability and financial feasibility. Are you willing to pay this, and if so, how?

Rather than a tax increase, I favor a bond issue. Carmel has no outstanding bonds to be paid off. A private group proposes to obtain money to construct a cultural center including a 1500 seat auditorium at no cost to Carmel and after say, 20 years, to have the structures revert to the City. Estimated cost $1,900,000. Should the City Hall and some of the city offices be housed there or not? What do you think? Better study this one. It has many angles. The interest on $550,000 at 4% is $22,000 a year. Principal payment for 20 years will amount to $27,500 annually. It is possible that this $49,500 could easily be paid off with the city's "bed tax," with some changes in the city ordinances.

HIGHER CARMEL TAXES. The report from the Controller to the City Council dated 24 July 1963 indicated clearly that a tax increase to produce about $30,000 for Capital Outlay (purchase of capital assets, such as trucks, autos, street machines, etc.) is inevitable next year. This means a tax increase of 16 cents per $100 assessed value, thus raising Carmel's tax rate from $0.94½ to $1.10. This was reported in some detail in the Carmel Valley Outlook at the time. We have not much choice on this one, but before we start complaining, let us resemble that even after the raise, Carmel's total tax rate will still be the lowest in Monterey County.

ANNEXATION. If Carmel does not annex much of the adjacent territory in the near future, meaning 1964 or 1965 at the latest, then the County government will control the development right at our doorstep, and it may very well be that what takes place there will not be at all to our liking,—nor for that matter to the liking of our friends living in those areas of Carmel unincorporated. The first effect of any such annexation may be a slight reduction in Carmel's tax rate, with a significant increase in the other tax rate. Nevertheless the cost of material and labor will continue to increase in my opinion, which will cause the cost of government to rise correspondingly. Over the long run, therefore we face increasing taxes, UNLESS additional sources of revenue are found, or some Governmental services are abolished or curtailed. I strongly favor the annexation of all the area South of Pescadero Canyon, North of Carmel River, and East of the ocean to the Eastern boundary of Rancho Rio Vista.

SIZE AND BULK OF BUILDINGS. Our efforts to have tighter control over the size and bulk of buildings have been only partly successful. We still feel Carmel is no place for large structures of any kind. One ordinance permits design control including disapproval if out of scale with Carmel, but we have not enough teeth in our laws to prevent unduly large buildings being erected, as witness Hilltop House on Torres near 6th. If our members really want such control, now is the time for them to make their wishes known to the Council and the Planning Commission. Failure of members to attend Council and Planning meetings and speak up loudly and emphatically is one of the reasons we are not progressing more rapidly. Do read the papers, note what is coming up, then go to the meeting and speak your piece.

CITY ELECTION. Tuesday, April 14, 1964. To be elected, three (3) City Councilmen for four years each, a City Clerk and a City Treasurer. Although the CARMEL CITIZENS COMMITTEE is a non political corporation, it is the bounden duty of every citizen to take part in elections. Be sure you are registered, study the candidates and VOTE.

PADRE PATTER

by Mary Hurn

Last week, students at Carmel High School were busy taking their semester final exams. A special schedule was in effect during exam week. Each day, two exams were given. These were two-hour tests. The first exam was from 8:00 to 10:00. After a fifteen minute break, students took a second exam from 10:15 to 12:15.

Then we were dismissed for the remainder of the day. Everyone is glad finals and the semester are over. Now we havea clean slate for the second semester.

This week, seniors will place orders for graduation announcements. There are varied views on graduation formalities. Many students believe too much "fuss" is made about high school graduation. They feel the emphasis on high school graduation detracts from college graduation. Others are in favor of placing a lot of importance on high school graduation. They argue that many students do not even go on to college and high school graduation is an important phase of life.

Almost all seniors are looking forward to graduating from high school. The realization is just coming to many of us that we have only one more semester of high school left. As Kris Johnson said, "I can hardly wait; I'll be so happy. There's so much to learn . . . I'm looking forward to college."

OBITUARIES

Rev. Canon Dowdell

A devout and scholarly churchman, patron of music, tolerant with a kindly humor, blind to the faults of his fellow men, Rev. Canon Charles Alfred Dowdell succumbed to a brief illness in a local nursing home last Sunday at the age of 84 years.

Altho visibly failing in health for the past year the "little Canon" as he was known to his hosts of friends never lost his gentle humor, his interest in people and above all his love of his church and music. His home was a mecca for young musicians who were encouraged by the Canon and his wife, often going on to world careers. His unfailing attendance at All Saints Episcopal Church services (and the social functions as well) will make his absence sorely felt by the entire church membership. Canon Dowdell was a Carmel character in the highest, finest sense.

A native of Dexter, N.Y., he was born May 20, 1880, and was graduated from Keuka College in Keuka Park, N.Y., in 1902. He was ordained to the Episcopal ministry following graduation in 1918 from the DeLancey Divinity School of Buffalo, N.Y.

From 1918 until 1925 Rev. Dowdell served as rector of St. Peter's Memorial Church on Dansville, N.Y. His marriage to Miss Frances Maxwell Sweet took place in Dansville in October, 1927.

The couple went to live in Phoenix, Ariz., where in 1926, Mr. Dowdell had been made an honorary canon of Trinity Cathedral, serving there until his retirement in 1950. From 1926 until 1930 he was also chaplain of St. Luke's Home in Phoenix.

In 1936 Canon and Mrs. Dowdell purchased a summer home on Santa Fe street in Carmel, making annual visits to the Peninsula.

They moved into their permanent home "Woodwinds" in Hatton Fields in 1950.

Canon Dowdell was a member of the original advisory board with the late Dene Denny, founder of the Carmel Bach Festival. He also served on the board of the Monterey County Symphony Assn.

In addition to his wife, the Canon leaves a sister, Miss Florence K. Dowdell of Watertown, N.Y., four brothers and numerous nieces and nephews, all living on the East Coast.

A litany was recited in All Saints Episcopal Church on Monday evening. Requiem was celebrated on Tuesday morning with the Rev. David Hill and Rev. Peter Farmer officiating. Inurnment will be in the family plot in Dansville, N.Y.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Organ Fund of All Saints Church; Carmel Bach Festival, or to the Monterey County Symphony.

Miriam Clark Potter

With the death of Mariam Clark Potter on Jan. 29 Carmel lost a well beloved citizen who contributed through 26 years to our cultural, spiritual and social life.

Mrs. Potter succumbed in her Carmel Valley home after an extended illness. Memorial services were held last Friday afternoon in Carmel Presbyterian Church where for so many years she was an active member. Dr. George Hunter Hall officiated.

A literary figure, best known for her delightful and highly original books for children Miriam Potter's reputation was international.

Miriam Clark Potter's career in juvenile literature began when she was in her early twenties—and was continuously successful during her entire life. Few American writers have had such a long career, in the field of children's literature.

Her first major writing assignment came when she won a contest for a daily juvenile story, sponsored by the then existing New York Post. Since her husband, Zenas L. Potter, was then an editor of the newspaper, she had entered the contest under an assumed name. To her surprise and his, she emerged winner of the contest. She did this daily feature for two years.

Although she devoted herself principally to books, verse and magazine stories for young children, she also wrote adult poetry that appeared, over the years, in such magazines as Good Housekeeping, The Ladies Home Journal and The Saturday Evening Post. She had the distinction and recognition of being listed in Who's Who in America for the major portion of her lifetime.

The Potters built their home in La Loma Terrace in 1938 when Mr. Potter retired from an advertising career. They traveled widely, returning always to Carmel and the life they loved—writing and painting and seeing the many friends they had on the Monterey Peninsula. Two of their three daughters, Constance and Jean, were frequent visitors, with their families. Their daughter Margaret (Mrs. Philip H. Smith) has been a Carmel resident since 1948.

Her three daughters were reunited in Carmel last week. All have careers, with daughter Jean (Mrs. Anatole Chelnov) a free lance writer (three books and magazine articles); daughter Margaret with a career in advertising; daughter Constance (Mrs. Alan Bruce) a psychiatric social worker. Mrs. Bruce and her family are residents of San Anselmo (he is County Administrator of Marin County). Mrs. Chelnov left this week for Tokyo, where her husband was recently transferred from Rome as foreign manager of the Encyclopedia Britannica in Japan. Mrs. Smith, for many years advertising manager of Holmans Department store in Pacific Grove is currently public relations director for Carmel Rancho Shopping Center.

In these troublesome days thinking men and women recognize that it is only through a knowledge of God that they can find peace and a sense of stability.

Through the study of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy many thousands have found that God is knowable; that He is unchanging divine Love—the protector and governor of His perfect creation.

City Council News

By Kati Corsaut

The Carmel City Council last night continued discussion of the city's proposed police station and corporation yard and tried to decide how far the architects should go in their preliminary planning. The Council listened to Walter Burde and Glenn Keans explain how much planning is necessary before a rough estimate can be reached. The problem of contracting architects to estimate cost when the project may turn out to be unfeasible presented itself to the Councilmen, who continued discussion until the Council's Mar. 13 meeting.

A matter of Carmel tradition and principles came before the Council as they discussed the matter of tree trimming and removal. Should the Councilmen, as duly elected city officials, continue to inspect trees, or should they delegate this responsibility to an appointed Forestry Commission? Councilman Blanks stated, "I don't feel anyone but the Council should decide on trees—it would turn out to be an imposition on the commission, the Council, and the citizen. "It is the job of councilmen to go on tour," concurred Councilman Buffington.

A motion to keep tree inspection as it remains failed, with Councilmen Blanks and Buffington voting yes. The matter is to be continued at a later date.

A temporary ordinance establishing interim zoning for on-site, off-street parking at future building sites was passed unanimously.

A petition from the Carmel Citizen's Committee for the removal of the recently-installed public phone booth in front of Harrison Memorial Library was rejected, councilmen agreeing that they had received an abundance of favorable comments on the booth.

"Opal" a Smash Hit At the Studio Theater

"Everybody Loves Opal," the Studio Theatre's newest, opened last Friday night and after the first ten minutes this reviewer chalked up yet another high success for this happy little theater and its talented producers.

John Patrick's gem of the hilarious doings of four crackpot, lovable crooks and one policeman easily turned into two hours of slapstick, but it didn't—it is rare comedy with a tender overtone and that overtone is treated with rare finesse in the hands of Babs Richardson as the scavenger of trash, most of it dirty and useless, that she carts home to her vermin-ridden abode in a tiny express wagon, joyful and triumphant about her 'finds.' She has her gold colored cat, her junk, her endless cups of tea and a heart full of love and faith in her fellow men, plus a quite bawdy and delicious sense of the ridiculous. Opal is an artist at living happily in the worst of all possible worlds, brought concretely to the attention of the audience by the ramshackle set contrived by Nick LeFeuvre, Jr.

Into Opal's shack and life come three crooks, bad 'uns of the first water. Sol (Ray Cadena) may have reached the third grade in school, but I doubt it, a product of the streets, he is nonetheless a crook with a heart of gold. Bradford, played by Nick LeFeuvre, is the intellectual disillusioned and embittered by a variety of life's blows, but still young enough to cast an eye on the beautiful hard boiled and dumb lady crook Gloria so delightfully portrayed by Janet Fluehr. There you have it. The makings and the characters of one of those fascinating comedies that has an emotional plus. Vern Peckover as the true blue policeman is the only really sane person in the play and he was great. Opal was completely justified in her implicit faith in the bluecoated Law.

To tell the story of "Everybody Loves Opal" in a limited review would be detraction for you who are planning an evening of dinner and entertainment in the Studio. You will see splendid acting, you'll hear endless wisecracks, perfectly timed, and you will go home with the memory of fun and a heart touching glimpse into the lives of five very real denizens of a world we sometimes mistakenly call 'under'.

P.S. There's a plus to all the goings on. In the end you, if you are in the audience, get money literally thrown at you! —C.E.

M.P.V.S. to Discuss New Projects Tomorrow

Mrs. Charles M. Jett, president of the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services, will conduct the General meeting to be held at 10 a.m. Friday, February 7th at the U.S.O.

The meeting will be concerned with the establishment of policies and approval of projects for 1964, allocation of earnings and the consideration by the general membership of requests for donations by local agencies.

A coffee hour preceding the business meeting is being planned by Mrs. L. K. Purcell, co-chairman of the Hospitality Committee.

See and Hear About Jets and Rockets Tomorrow!

Through the efforts of Mr. Ed Coffin, County Superintendent of the Board of Education, Carmel's school students will have an opportunity tomorrow to see models of U.S. rockets and outer space equipment and hear it explained by Julian F. Roger, NASA Spacemobile lecturer.

The Spacemobile will arrive at Carmel Junior High School tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The demonstration will be set up in the school's largest available assembly room. Carmel adults are invited, but students will be given preference in the limited space available.

There will be a second demonstration at Sunset School at 2:30 p.m. to which adults are also invited.

Carmel Police

The first part of the party was to include gathering on the Carmel Beach and later going to Farm Center in the Valley for the party until midnight.

Police departments of all Peninsula communities together with representatives of the California Highway Patrol and the state Alcoholic Beverage Commission met on Thursday to discuss tactics for combatting the invasion.

The result was that when the "visitors" arrived on Saturday they found Carmel swarming with police. Everywhere they looked they saw cars loaded with uniformed officers. Tavern operators and liquor dealers were warned to be on the lookout for minors.

Jon beachcomber, identified as Jon Greenough, a high school teacher at San Luis Obispo, was picked up and told of the possible consequences. He later aided police in telling the youngsters that the party was called off. Many of them seemed quite irritated that they had driven such a distance for a canceled party.

The final outcome was that the party was completely broken up. Greenough was not charged with any offense at the beginning of this week, since no statutes had been violated. Chief Klaumann said he felt the affair had been well handled, since no one was hurt, and the party was nipped in the bud.

Movie Theater

over by San Francisco film distributors.

"The new theater will be, in construction and in operation, first and foremost Carmel's," states Mr. Graff. "It will seat approximately 750 persons. And the loge is our pride. We have already bought the lounge rocking chairs, the utlimate, we feel in luxury comfort. We plan to bring great films, direct from the major city runs (simultaneously when we can) to our patrons.

"We have gone extensively into programs for children's Saturday afternoon matinees, when the children will be supervised, from the moment they are left in our care until they are picked up by their parents or responsible adults. No child will be allowed to leave the theater unattended. Further, the theater will be available for community entertainments and benefits.

Tom Graff, with his wife Jerry and young daughter, Catherine, who attends Woods School, has lived in Carmel for 8 years.

His partner, Ed Dickinson and his wife, Carolyn have a small son, Craig, who attends Sunset School.

Sunset Terrace, as viewed in architect Robert L. MacIntyre's drawings, is completely in character with the Carmel scene and tradition. The wide walkways are bordered with greenery and there will be a pond, flower bordered.

The builders put their non speculative investment at $250,000 plus. They expect to start construction on San Carlos street about April 1, with Steve Sassoon as engineer.

The theater plans its grand opening late in August.

A FRIEND

A friend had always been to me
A good companion over a cup of tea;
Exchange of thoughts, the newest joke,
Or a little gossip about the other folk;
A game of cards, picnics, parties, fun,
And a gay "Good Night" when the day was done.

Then I found myself in a hospital bed,
Grave problems and long dark days ahead;
The surgeon's knife, and nurses care,
And hurts and aches seemed everywhere.

But suddenly the sky was lighter,
The hurts were gone and the day was brighter
Because from a lot of friends of mine,
Generous thoughtful, good and kind,
Came flowers, letters, gifts and cards,
And cheering good wishes, just yards and yards.

And everything had a different hue,
Because these were sent to me from you.
A friend now does not seem to be
Just a good companion over a cup of tea,
But deep in this heart of mine,
A friend is something near divine.

VORTEX

Time will follow, cruel and unbidden
Hearts will break as they have done before.
Children who have often hidden
Their shyness behind a pantry door
Will look and see the world grown tall
In diagram. Dreams may crash and fall
Like dishes, unbalanced, on a ledge
Time stands tremulous. Time is a wedge
Between defeat and courage slowly come
Between thundering afternoons, followed by sun.
Children who are welded in the fire
Find life is more than music or desire.

FATHER'S BARGAINS

He brought home a winded trotter,
Which bolted and ran away;
An Empire bed, wheer Lafayette
Had tossed awake till day;

A great tureen for chowder,
Painted with fish of seven seas,
Circling a global chart.
Mother thought bargains a disease,

Till our dark horse won a race.
Then what father bought she sold.
Her auctions were sensations,
As his bargains turned to gold.

A HASTENING TO DELIGHT

Not with quickened step do we sense Spring is born, rather it is felt with birds peeling praise in early rhythms, joyful to the skies, and none to hear but their like,
and the wakeful, such as I.

Not with the deeper blue above, fresh-washed air, soft with seasonal rains,
that we know February bows in Camellias, perfumed Daphne, and Daffodils sprightly gay, flowering peach's youthful shade in blooms,
and the primroses of colorful array—

but, with a hastening to delight the sight, that earth's rapture is restored!

M.P.C. Instructor's Books Published

Publication of a two-volume textbook by Al Giordano, an instructor in the Monterey Peninsula College business department since 1958, has just been announced by Prentice-Hall, Inc.

The book, "Business Machine Calculation," offers the first completely college-oriented instructional material in its field, according to the publishers.

Volume I, "Adding Machines and Printing Calculators," presents instructional materials and problems for three types of adding machines. Completely lesson-planned, the text provides the student with thorough training, utilizing simple step-by-step directions.

Volume II, "Rotary Calculators," offers the student instructional materials and problems for the three brands of desk calculators manufactured in the United States. The material is presented in a cycle plan of five lessons.

Included are a guide for decimal programming, fingering technique drills, and supplementary materials.

Now a resident, with his family, of Carmel Valley, the author earned his bachelor's degree at Arizona State University; an M.Ed. degree from the University of Pittsburgh and an M.S. degree at Indiana University. He is a doctoral candidate at the University of Ottawa, Canada.
